

An illustration of a snowy forest path. A person in a red coat and dark scarf walks alongside a brown horse. The path is flanked by tall, dark trees with snow on their branches. A small blue bird is perched on a tree on the right, and a white rabbit is visible on the left. In the background, a bird is flying over a snowy landscape with distant mountains.

STOPPING BY WOODS ON A SNOWY EVENING

*But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep . . .*

ROBERT FROST

With illustrations by
VIVIAN MINEKER

